

SMARTCONF

An end-to-end solution for event and conference management.

OVERVIEW

Events and Conferences are part of every domain and business. The typical event consists of a lot of organizing and task management. People with varied domain interests use SmartCONF that provides intuitive and optimized interfaces for easy and effective operation. Quite a lot of software applications are available to manage various aspects of event management; yet an all-inclusive, self-managed, organized and cloud based event management framework is not readily available. smartCONF is proposed to fill this gap in event & conference management.
